SERVICES DESCRIPTION

The Company offers IV hydration therapy as prescribed by licensed medical professionals (the "Services"). Our Services are provided through a mobile clinic, allowing clients to receive treatments conveniently in their homes, businesses, hotels, or other locations.

All clients must undergo an initial consultation with a licensed physician via telehealth or telemedicine before receiving IV hydration therapy. The purpose of this consultation is to assess the client's medical history, evaluate their suitability for treatment, and determine whether IV therapy is appropriate based on their individual health status. The consulting physician, and not the Company, establishes the physician-patient relationship. The Company serves as a facilitator of the Services but does not independently diagnose, prescribe, or assume responsibility for patient care.

The physician conducting the telehealth consultation is responsible for making all medical determinations regarding treatment eligibility. If approved, the physician will issue an order for IV therapy, which will then be administered by a licensed nurse or medical professional in accordance with applicable state laws and medical protocols.
